About Leader

You are really fortunate to spend time with our guides who hold strong communication skills. They are great at projecting their voices across a group in a clear and easy to understand manner. They are gifted with what you call to be the great conversationalists with outgoing personalities. We ensure you that you feel open and comfortable talking to whoever accompanies you as your guide. Our guides possess a great experience of almost all the travel and trekking sites of Nepal. They can disseminate their awesome knowledge and experiences to you. They are not only enthusiastic but at the same time are humorous as well to relieve you from the often tiresome walks. We never compromise when it comes to time. Our guides are always punctual and perform things in time. They have keen sense of direction and can easily lead you in whichever route you follow them. Mostly, we assign the local guides who can bring their own knowledge, gain a genuine experience.

Ranikot Hiking and Sightseeing/Itinerary

Day 1: Kathmandu

Early morning after breakfast drive towards Suryabinayak. Start the hike taking blessing from Suryabinayak - a god having elephant head that is worshipped first in Hindu religion in any religious work. Along the way you will pass through beautiful landscape view, greeted by lush greenery and how much you go up and up the view is more and more spectacular. On the way, visit Pilot Baba Ashram. After an hour pleasant hike reach in Ghampe Danda and take a tea break. After another one-hour hike you will reach in Ranikot. Take lunch and rest in Panorama View Tower Resort. You will see the airplanes flying below your height. The bird's eye view of Kathmandu Valley, eye level hills and northern high Himalayas are just marvelous. After lunch we hike back to Kathmandu visiting Bhairav temple, the Ranikot Fort (only ruins remain) built by King Prithvinarayan Shah in the medieval period (Malla Dynasty). Ranikot is a hill point to see the three cities of Kathmandu valley i.e. Kathmandu, Patan and Bhaktapur at once. Dinner and overnight in Kathmandu.
